Hearings Held This Afternoon on Two Bills for Raising Money; Provision Must Be Enacted to Meet Increased Appropriations.

(By Associated Press)

Madison, May 27.—The assembly this morning by a vote of 47 to 41 killed the Hineman bill appropriating $90,700 for an addition to the chemistry building at the University of Wisconsin and a moment later turned around and by a vote of 38 to 33 passed the Coe bill appropriating upwards of $1,000,000 for increases in salaries, repairs and operating expenses for the state university, and then by a vote of 71 to 13 passed the normal school appropriation bill carrying $250,000 for operating.

The passage of the university salaries and operating expense bill and normal school operating expense bill—the two measures calling for considerably more than a million dollars—means that the legislature intends to take some action at this session to increase the taxes of the state to raise money for this purpose.

Chicago, May 27.—Candidates for the republican nomination for the presidency today opened their final drive to capture the 493 votes that spell victory in the convention which will meet here tomorrow.

The last of the 934 delegates who will sit in the convention were selected yesterday when Vermont republicans met and chose 8 delegates.

Wood Has Most Votes
Major General Leonard Wood, present returns show, will enter the convention with more instructed votes than any other candidate, but his total of 153 is less than one third of the number necessary to win the nomination.

The division of strength among the large field of "favorite sons" practically precludes any possibility of a nomination on the first ballot. Even the most optimistic campaign managers here are not claiming victory before the third ballot and the more conservative party leaders predict the break will not come before the fifth or sixth at the earliest.

145 Contests Pending

One big factor which may upset campaign managers' predictions is yet to be dealt with. One hundred and forty-five contests have been scheduled, more than half of which will be filled, more than one seventh.

The principal contests are between the present Union General Wood and the Communist Party's candidate, the late General's son, who is a Communist Party member. Wood is a member of the Communist Party and is a member of the Communist Party.

BILL IS REACHED

The loss was heavy. It is partly covered by insurance. Mr. Williams who was present was burned about the face and hands.
The blaze started from an explosion in the new stock room and spread rapidly, being beyond control before help arrived. Two nearby houses were badly damaged but the fire was fought back from several neighboring houses which were threatened.
Eight or nine cars stored in the garage were destroyed, together with large amount of supplies. Among the cars lost were those belonging to Dr. E. Ewing, Elsworth Lee, Fred Perry, and Charles Nichols.

In order to save an extra day's costs, testimony in the suit brought by the Beloit Water Power Co. against Edward R. Branigan for al-lleged interference with the riparian rights of the corporation in Rock river was continued until 6:30 last night. Trial was held here before Judge E. Ray Stevens of the Madison circuit on request of the Water com-pany rather than take a change of venue. Testimony was completed and the case taken under advisement by the judge who will render his decision by the end of the week.
Branigan is charged with contempt of court for having defied an in-junction taken out to stop him from filling in portions of Rock river near Beloit. It was declared in court that he dumped earth and other material in the riverbed near his ice-house after the injunction was served. The Water company also asks that he be compelled to remove from his pre-sent location.

LOAN ASSOCIATION HAS RAPID GROWTH

Home Builders' Organization Has Sold 940 Shares of Stock in First Month.

Janesville's new Building and Loan association in the first month of its operation has shown a growth far above expectations and a condition which seems to indicate it is one of the best of its kind in the city. Officials of the project declared today.

The association has a total of $1 members representing 940 shares of stock at $100 per share. According to the report of a similar organization in a nearby city the Janesville association is on a better basis at the end of one month than this outside organization was at the termination of two and one-half years of business.

The first loan of the Janesville body has been approved by the board of directors. These officials also have gone on record as favoring the working in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce committee to be appointed by President John P. Cotton.

Three plans of payments have been worked out by the association which has two classes of members. The difference between the two is that an investor pays 50 cents, 75 cents or $100 per month on one share for 140, 108 or 84 months and then receives $100 per share, while the borrower receives his $100 share in advance by giving a mortgage on real estate security and he pays $1.10, $1.35 or $1.60 a month respectively for the same time, when he surrenders the stock and the investor gives him a release of his mortgage.

In the case of a small investor wishing to take out 10 shares of stock ($1,000) the monthly payment is $10 per month until he has reached his goal. Interest accrued before he gives the investor his share value. He has actually paid their face value.

BILLION PAID OUT IN WAR INSURANCE

Settlement of 127,151 insurance claims for death and total permanent disability has been completed by the bureau of war insurance, according to notice given the local Red Cross today. Only 5,119 cases are pending.

The claims settled represent a total value of more than a billion dollars; the exact amount is given as $1,125,662,173.

The bureau says in its letter to the Red Cross: "It now requires only five days from receipt of final report of death for the first check of the first check. Frequently cases have been handled more rapidly."

SECOND AUTO THEFT OF 1920 REPORTED

Janesville's second motor car theft of 1920 was reported to Indian Ford, who said his 1918 Ford touring car was taken from the city of Janesville between 9 and 10 o'clock. Police in Rockford, Beloit and Evansville have been heard from.

The machine is said to look like new with the exception of a cracked windshield. The car contained among other things, a first class blue coat, a suit, a hat and a shawl. Nothing further has been heard from the car which was taken from E. P. Funk, route 3, Janesville, on the night of May 15.

The stolen machine bore license plate number 50,196, and engine number 2403185.

SAY LOCAL STRIKE OF CARPENTERS IS FULLY SANCTIONED

Members of the carpenters' local, No. 336, today refused the charge that their participation in the controversy between the Federated Trades council and the Builders' union did not have the sanction of their national offices. It is alleged by the carpenters and other craftsmen affected by the local strike that statements have been made that the walkout was illegal.

In correspondence with the matter, received today from the national union, general secretary of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, notifies the Janesville local that the strike is sanctioned by its governing body.

Many who participated in the walkout here April are working today either on individual jobs or for contractors in other cities.

FLAT 3-CENT FARE WILL BE REQUESTED BY INTERURBAN CO.

A new petition for an increase in passenger fares on the Rockford & Interurban Railway, which will be filed with the railroad commission within the next few days. Attorney William H. Dougherty, the petitioner, is asking for a 3-cent fare from 2.5 to 3 cents per mile and is asking for a 3-cent fare from here through to Rockford at a flat rate of 3 cents per mile.

A similar petition filed by the company several months ago was refused by the Wisconsin state ruling body because earning exhibitors showed a substantial margin of earnings over operating costs.

According to officials of the company this margin was handled by the company during the period when Camp Grant was filled to capacity. Another element of the decrease in fares is said to have been the suspension of building activities by Samson.

CANNING FACTORY PLANS BUNKHOUSE

Permit for the erection of a bunkhouse on the 1400 block of Spring Brook addition has been granted to the P. Hohenadel Jr. company to house some of the employees of the local canning factory. The structure, which will be 14x30, will be built near the factory.

Shortage of labor and houses is the reason advanced for the building. R. F. Benwitz has secured a permit from the building inspector, Francis Blair, for an addition to his house at 519 South High street. Similar permits have been issued to Mrs. Timmerman, and Karel Hawlick, 1502 Western avenue.

SHORTAGE OF WOMAN LABOR.

Janesville is feeling the shortage of woman labor along with other cities. Here it is more acute from the fact that a great number of the industries of the city employ women. There is a fine field here for girls who wish to engage in industrial activities. Janesville has many mills and factories where the surroundings are pleasant and the work is attractive. The big problem is not the job itself, but to care for the girls after they come here. We have no arrangements for that purpose. Each must find her own way and secure her own place and afterward seek her own amusements and recreation.

In spite of the necessity of the case, in spite of the crying need realized by all, we are sitting still and doing nothing. If the labor situation is acute now it will be more so later with expanding industry.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF EDUCATION.

Some time ago the Gazette called attention to a movement of general scope and interest having for its object the establishment of a department of education by the federal government. Some of the revelations showing the failure of the schools to meet the demands of the people and the growing percentage of illiteracy, together with the administrative defects so palpable as to be an injury to the cause of popular education, moved the men of prominence in the nation's activities to seek a referendum among the members of the national council of the Economic League. This organization is headed by former president Taft and Charles Evans Hughes and many distinguished educators are on its membership roll.

The result of the vote on the establishment of a department of education, the head of which should be a cabinet officer with funds ample to provide for effective country-wide influence on educational aims and procedure, was overwhelming. Other questions submitted and favored were as to whether the department should have to do also with rural schools, whether vocational education was to be provided; as to the proper use and enjoyment of leisure, the establishment of facilities for adult education particularly of foreign-born people who have come to America; the establishment of a minimum wage for teachers; the appointment of a commission for studying and recommending ethical and moral training in schools, and for making the educational facilities of high schools and colleges available for the workers of America in the form of systematic courses of instruction. This is a big program and it needs backing to be carried through.

NO PRECEDENT FOR AMERICA.

One of our exchanges lately calls attention to the fact that before the war "Great Britain had undertaken the responsibility for some 323,000,000 people in Asia and 50,000,000 in Africa." She is now adding Mesopotamia and Persia. "Because of this action on the part of Great Britain we are told that we should take a mandate for Armenia. There is nothing analogous in the cases. The British are a colonizing nation. A republic cannot be the very nature of its government be a colonizer. The king of England is "Emperor of India," ruler of those 323,000,000 people. Great Britain's interest in Africa and Asia is not that of a mandatory, but an owner of the property and dictator of the lives and liberties of the people. There is no thought in a mandatory of making the people of Armenia subjects to America, and all people under British rule mentioned in the World Outlook are subjects.

British example forms no precedent for American action.

NEWS OF THE CONVENTIONS.

The Gazette is fully appreciative of the public's intense interest in the two great National conventions this year and has made arrangements to give its readers the fullest reports possible.

must be accorded the palm for writing without partisan bias and for a great audience made up of every political belief. His daily Washington dispatches appear in a score of the leading papers of the nation. Mr. Lawrence will be at the Chicago convention, and each day he will write two dispatches for the Gazette. One will cover the latest up to the time of going to press in the afternoon, the other will be a resume of the day sent at night for the early editions.

Things move rapidly at a national convention. Kaleidoscope changes are many. The conclusions reached at 10 o'clock in the morning may be upset and a new viewpoint arrived at by noon. This is particularly likely to happen at Chicago, where no candidate has a majority of the delegates pledged, State delegations caucusing and agreeing to vote here or there add to the uncertainty. It is not often that a candidate is nominated in the convention hall. He receives the vote there, but the work is done elsewhere. While the convention at Chicago is to meet on June 8, yet the political events will commence a week before that hour. In that time the telegrams of David Lawrence will be of the greatest interest for it is not the province of the Associated Press to analyze the situation, but to give a chronicle of things that have happened.

Combining both, the Associated Press and the Lawrence service, the readers of the Gazette will have a perfect news picture. That is the aim of the publishers of the Gazette for the two conventions. Janesville people will get in the Gazette regular afternoon edition later news than from any other medium reaching the city or vicinity. We believe you will like the Gazette convention reports.

At the Nation's Capital

Mr. Lawrence will leave Washington next week for a tour of several states looking over the political field. His reports will appear in the Gazette.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1920, by Janesville Gazette.)
Washington, D. C., May 27.—Senator Hiram Johnson may or may not be the republican nominee at Chicago, but he can rejoice in the fact right now that he is having the time of his life with the co-leads of the republican party. Wriggling uncomfortably, protesting indignantly, yet controlling their impulses sufficiently to smother their feelings, the majority of the republican senators are distressed. Kenyon, the committee headed by the senator, is investigating the expenditures of the various presidential campaigns.

The republican senators who have been through many a campaign and many an exposure of campaign expenditures shook their heads doubtfully when the plan was first proposed, and finally decided to come back to Washington and things happened. Although members of the investigating committee deny that they have any other purpose except to let white light of publicity shed its pointed rays on the "Slush funds," as well as imaginary, of the different candidates, as well as republican candidates, it requires no extraordinary power of political penetration to see that the whole thing is part of the skillful maneuvers of Hiram Johnson to fight his republican opponents by continuous smoke-screens about their campaign expenditures and the supposed effort of plutocracy to capture political control of our government.

Already the investigation has produced bitter feeling inside the republican party. Supposing Leonard Wood is the nominee at Chicago? Is it politically good sense to hand the democrats all the data and details of the Wood campaign? If so, it is a political party investigating money spent. It is one political party investigating the other. What the republican leaders resent is that certain republicans are really investigating the republican party. They want it stopped. But the potential power of Hiram Johnson to come out and denounce the "old guard" as backward and out of date is content to let the investigation run its course, with this exception: If the investigation throws too much mud on the various republican candidates and nobody makes a move to inquire into the financing of Hiram Johnson's campaign and the direct and indirect support he is getting, some effort will be made to bring that phase of the question into the line of fire. Indeed, the word is going the rounds that public senators who are not especially friendly to Herbert Hoover, but who believe his friends in California can furnish information about the expenditures for Johnson in California are thinking seriously of insisting that the senate committee, from the first the peculiar power which Hiram Johnson has held over his colleagues in the senate has been attributed partly to the force of his personality and his ability to pound out his thoughts in debate with biting effectiveness and partly to the fear that if Johnson is not continuously given the Republican hopes for victory from the vantage point of certainty to the uncomfortable stages of real doubt. No matter what the democrats have thought, the republicans have right along sincerely believed they had an easy victory before them in November. The Johnson spectre has raised "If progressives will do. Discontent and murmurs are growing over the famous conference here last week over the framing of the republican platform. Will Hays brought the results of weeks and weeks of research to the veteran politicians on Capitol Hill, thinking they would be a course of report as a basis for recommendations. The report was to have been made public by this time.

But something has delayed it, and Everett Cobb, militant progressive from New Jersey, is with a statement that the old guard is really pigeon-holing the big volume of reports compiled by the committee of platform and policies. Instead of making "recommendations," the elder statesmen on Capitol Hill are reported to have said that they did not feel they should dictate to the committee on resolutions of the republican national convention, but that they would present the reports of the advisory committee appointed by Will Hays as "information." Of course, it is too early to say what the Chicago convention will do with the advisory committee's work. It may adopt the whole thing. But just now some of those who worked on the advisory committee feel that they have been rudely relegated to the ranks of the old guard rule still prevails. Politically speaking, there is indeed a danger in publishing anything in advance of the conventions that might appear to commit the party because it might later be sized up by a rival political party as a basis for criticism. If the platform committee recommended the democratic orators would not hesitate to point the finger of inconsistency at the republicans.

But while the republicans are having their troubles, something analogous to "old guard" rule is going on in the democratic ranks. Democratic leaders are insisting emphatically that if Mr. Wilson is re-elected, he will wreck the democratic party and its chances for victory. Here and there insurgency is cropping out, especially in connection with the demand of eastern democrats for a damp platform and the insistence of the western democrats that they couldn't hope for anything but success unless they eliminated prohibition as an issue. Neither republicans nor democrats are very happy over the immediate future. They will all be immensely relieved when the two conventions are adjourned—if, indeed, there be only two conventions.

David Lawrence has a foremost standing as a correspondent and a writer of political and economic topics. While all may not agree with him, yet he

BUDDY BATTEREDKNEE.
Little Buddy Batteredknee.
That is what your name should be,
Never were you of these
Such a sorry sight as these,
Cut and bruised and sadly hurt,
Red with blood and black with dirt.
"Come on," say, "and let me see."
But you stand and grin at me.

Surely you have suffered pain
And wish to be a man?
There's the record, plain as day,
You have tumbled on the way;
Six or seven places there
Curses would you had to bear.
Grinning? What is there to grin?
In so sad a pair of knees?

Proud of them? You seem to be!
Do they mark some victory?
Did you cry or did you not
When you won that fearful spot?
What about this cut right here?
Did that start a little tear?
Not at all! What's that you say?
"All the boys' knees look this way!"

Little Buddy Batteredknee,
That is what your name should be.
Never have I ever seen
Knees so battered and unclean,
Yet when I would sympathize
You display them as a prize.
And you proudly tell me now
"There's not girls' knees anywhere!"

I KNOW A STREET.
I know a street in a little town.
In a land that's far away.
It has a house with a green lawn
And a place where children play.
And there's a gate to the little house,
And just by the gate a tree;
And I hear a song and I see a face,
And there's a voice that welcomes me.

But this little street, this little town,
Live now and things unseen;
They're far, far back over a weary track
In the Land of Might.

Who's Who Today

GOV. SPRUILL C. SPROUL.
Although Gov. William C. Spruill of Pennsylvania recently joined with Senator Penrose in recommending the nomination of Senator Knox for the presidency at the Chicago convention, friends of Spruill believe that he and not Knox has the best chance to win.

Knox, it is pointed out, is not strong with the progressive element of the republican party in the west. Spruill, on the other hand, is said to be regarded by republican progressives with favor. His assertion of independence of Penrose, the Pennsylvania boss, into whose camp he is reported to have moved, is all to the credit of the Keystone governor in western eyes. The friends of Gifford Pinchot as chief forester of Pennsylvania by Spruill is said to be particularly objectionable to Senator Penrose. For these reasons, friends of Spruill say that there is a deadlock the Californian's delegates are more likely to go to Spruill than to Knox.

Children's Museums

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, May 27.—A middle-aged Irishwoman was hustled by a crowd on into the Children's Museum in Boston the other day.

"See, mother," he urged in an excited whisper, "there's that flint I found in Mike's backyard, and it has my name by it!"

The mother, admiring the bit of rock and the way it was found, hurried around to see the butterflies, a Japanese village, and other exhibits, and wonders of which her son lovingly described.

Then Mrs. Finn must meet "the lady." So she was dragged puffing to the desk of the director. By the time the lady had absorbed some of her son's enthusiasm.

"Folks thing for children," this is a folks thing for the children. It's a lot they need to learn in the world besides an education.

According to a typical incident in the routine of the Boston Children's Museum, few visitors sum up the function of the museum so aptly as Finn.

The need for boys and girls to learn in other ways besides through formal schooling is more and more felt. We are told by museum officials attending a convention here. In this connection, they say, the children's museum is coming to be regarded as an important means of developing the child mind. Numerous cities here and abroad are planning collections for the children, either in connection with schools, libraries, or other institutions. These museum officials predict that the future of the children's museums will be as familiar as children's libraries or playgrounds.

Now in Operation

There are now three well-established children's museums in this country, and a number of variations of the idea. The first one was started in Brooklyn, N. Y., 20 years ago. There is another in Boston, six years old, and one was started the past winter in Cambridge, Mass.

The idea of a museum for boys and girls first came up when a house was willed to the Brookline Institute of Arts and Sciences. The house was taken for a storage place for extra exhibits. Then a curator cleared out a room and made it into a museum, one room and one bird for the benefit of children visiting the main exhibit.

Word of a museum just for children spread through the schools, and the popular that the whole building was given over to a regularly organized museum for school children.

No Bugs in Boston

Some years later the public school teachers of Boston were complaining that it was impossible to teach natural study in Burgess and plantless sections of the city, and to children who had no personal experience with plants and animal life. To meet this situation the Boston Children's Museum was established out of funds from the public school system and private subscription.

A real children's museum is a place arranged entirely for boys and girls. The place is not too large, but large enough to hold everything in plain English. The place is not too big, but large enough to hold everything in plain English. The place is not too big, but large enough to hold everything in plain English.

THE CONSTANT COLD

A sporting editor, one of those who can cogitate on such problems as "The Pirates' Chances for the Ring Next Year" and market the cogitations, writes that he has a cold summer, fall and spring.

When the cold runs through the seasons like that it is time to do something about it. Obviously the sporting editor cannot seek a climate where it is never cold. What would all the sports do without some one to arrange their thoughts for them? The man must stay right on the job and still try to warm up. For several years now he has worked on the theory that the more you wear and the more careful you are to avoid exposure the better for your health. Yet see what he says about the four seasons. His theory is all wrong. The truth is that the less you wear and the more careless you are about exposure the better for your health. The usual explanation of frequently recurring attacks of coryza or acute rhinitis (so-called "colds") is some chronic condition in the nose or throat which calls for careful examination by a physician who really endeavors to treat the cause of cases. This does not mean a nose and throat specialist. Nowadays the well trained young physician is equipped to properly examine and successfully treat these very common nose and throat troubles. It is a mistake to think that a specialist necessarily must be consulted for any such condition. In children adenoid enlargement is

JAP BANK SUSPENDS. AFFECTS SILK EXPORTS. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Tokio, May 27.—The suspension today of the Seiyu Bank of Yokohama was regarded as important because it was connected with operations in silk, Japan's chief export to America. The suspension, said to be for three weeks, immediately forced the re-closing of the bank and the newspapers attributed the ensuing slump in the Tokyo and Osaka stock market, where principal shares fell from 100 to 90 yen to the suspension of the bank and reported liquidations in America.

Oil production in the United States increased 24,000,000 barrels in the last year.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a very oily skin. Will you please tell me what I can do for this?

BLONDE. For oily skin banish all rich and greasy foods, because diet has a great influence on the condition of the skin.

Wiping of the face occasionally with diluted alcohol (25 percent strength) is beneficial in the case of an oil skin.

A few drops of ammonia or a pinch of borax in the water with which the face is washed is also helpful.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am troubled with falling hair. I have always had beautiful, thick hair and this worries me a great deal. I am not a pretty girl, but every one remarks about my beautiful brown hair. What can I do?

BRUNETTE. Crude petroleum is often used to prevent falling hair. It does not leave the hair too greasy, but helps the scalp. Use as little as possible at each application, rubbing into the scalp with gentle massage every night.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Can one live a Christian life if either the man or wife has been married before and after a divorce has married again?

A READER. The Catholics and a few other creeds do not permit divorce. Legally, however, divorce makes it all right for the husband or wife to marry again. Most people believe that after a divorce a second marriage is all right.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman and have one child. I have been married but 10 years. My husband is real good to me in some ways, but he drank for a long time and now he worries me a lot and makes me unhappy because I dislike it so.

My life has never been of much pleasure to me because of a man I was in love with before I was married. This man is now married and I realize my mistake after it is too late.

I love this man dearly and feel sure he loves me as I do him. The more I think of him and the longer

I am married, the more I care for him. This, however, has never caused me to be untrue to my husband.

I am miserable all the time and cannot be contented with anything. Will you please advise me what to do to be contented and satisfied with home and my husband? I know my former sweetheart loves me more than he does his wife.

WHITE CABBAGE. You are making yourself more unhappy by thinking wrong thoughts. To grieve because your husband used to drink is a useless thing now. Live in the present and be thankful that it is not made easy for him to obtain intoxicating drinks now. He will get along much better and be happier and more kind if he feels he has your sympathy and co-operation.

To dream about the other man is more than a waste of time because it does you positive injury. You are idealizing some one who in reality is different from your picture. Forget the past because it is a dead thing in your life and blocks the way to the happiness which might be yours every day.

You must not forget the blessing your child is to you. If she were taken away you would find that she alone was enough to make you happy. Enjoy her while you have her with you. Time will pass quickly and she will be a grown girl and some man will take her away from you. Do not be blind to the blessings you have.

Thousands Stand in Line to Purchase Sugar

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Anderson Ind., May 27.—Several thousand persons impeded traffic for blocks here today in an effort to purchase sugar advertised at 17½ cents a pound by a local merchant. The rush started early in the morning and indications were it would last until all the sugar had been sold. Sugar has been bringing around 30 cents a pound.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

BY PHILLY PHILLIPS

IS CECIL IN LOVE OR TEMPO-RARILY INSANE?

Got back from Philly this morning, tired but refreshed. The family remarked on my pale cheeks, and dad punched one of them and told me he just knew that I had had the time of my life. He is the dearest thing. On top of hugging me to pieces he fished out a most thrilling emerald ring for his Lindsey, which sent me into fits of delight. Assured me it was not a wedding present, just a little between gift, you know.

Mother was glad to see me, and asked me if I had behaved as I should while I was away. As for Aunt Cecilia, she just danced about, she was so glad to see my smiling face again. I just know they all miss my exciting self, when I am away.

That's how it should be. My room had been straightened up (which means that I never can find the object most dear to me) in my absence, and mother has bought me a new negligee. So everything is well.

Cecil engaged into see me round lunch-time, and asked me what sort of a time I had had. The boy looks a bit thin, and his eyes affected me strangely. I wonder if he could be in love with me. It would be strange, for I am everything that he most disapproves of. I imagine. But then he put it by him to fail for his direct opposite, and some one as unguided to him in every way as a butterfly to a frog.

He told me that the home had been ghastly still and dull since I had departed, and that he had not enjoyed a single meal, that were all so laughable. Flattering to say the least, eh, what?

was in an extremely fetching blue negligee, and so cool and composed, you've no idea, so I told him it was sweet to be missed and all that; then he began to comb my hair.

The next thing I felt was a very soft kiss on the nape of my neck, and I turned to find Cecil very wild-eyed in the back of me. Of course I kept my sautoir-faire, and waved him aside lightly, as the duchess's heroines do so well, you know. Then I told him to remember that he had to behave himself in my room, or else I would have to keep him out.

Nanny said that as we were at this point, and looked curiously at Cecil, then at me. I declare that long-legged child has the greatest knack for appearing at the wrong moment. She is positively uncanny! And her eyes always seem so green and elf-like when she catches one, when one least wants to be caught—nasty?

Of course she explained that mother had sent her to get me for a nutting, dressmaker waiting and all that, so there was no earthly use to call her down for sneaking in. I told her to sit down and help herself to some candy, which Cecil had brought in to me, which she did, gratefully.

After engaging us in a stupid conversation, in which I heard the latest back-stairs history, just who the new lounge I was "artificially" draped on, and picked me up in his arms, just as though I were a baby. He was trembling, quite violently, and for the first time I was thoroughly frightened at everything.

He kissed me on the mouth till the breath seemed to leave my body, and then put me back and dashed out of the room.

Hardly had I gotten rid of her, when Cecil came over to the chaise longue I was "artificially" draped on, and picked me up in his arms, just as though I were a baby. He was trembling, quite violently, and for the first time I was thoroughly frightened at everything.

Mexican Beans—One and one-half cups of dried kidney beans, two small onions, one-quarter teaspoonful of curry powder, one-half cup of water, and allow to boil for 20 minutes, and then decrease the heat so that the mixture will just simmer. Cook in this manner for two hours, or until the meat is tender. Remove meat to platter. Thicken the liquor with flour and add salt and paprika to taste. Serve beans on the same platter as the meat. This is a very appetizing dish. It combines the function of a "meat extender" with that of utilizing a cheap cut of meat.

Nut Cakes (two dozen)—Two tablespoons of fat and one half cup of brown sugar creamed together. One egg, one cup of flour, one teaspoon of baking powder, one-half cup of nut meats. Add a very little milk, just enough to drop cakes with a teaspoon and knife on buttered tin. Try one first before making more. These cakes may be varied by omitting the nuts and adding one tablespoon of melted chocolate or by adding one-quarter teaspoon of cloves (ground), one-eighth teaspoon of ginger and one-quarter cup of raisins.

NEW YORK BUSY —FIGHTING BOOZE

Whiskey Criminals Brought To Bay and Hunted by Rum Sleuths.

New York, May 26.—Booze is going down. That goes both ways. More of it is being consumed in this city than for any time since the Volstead act, plus the Eighteenth Amendment, went into effect, yet it is cheaper today by grape vine routes than it was three months ago.

James S. Shevlin, federal director of prohibition enforcement, who has two hundred booze hounds at work in this vicinity, was asked upon his return from Washington, to what he attributed this anomalous state of things. His attention from Chicago showing that the federal agents out there had discovered forgeries of plated forms under which transfers of liquor for legitimate uses were percolating. The despatches told of liquor worth $300,000 having been sold under these fake transfer permits.

Mr. Shevlin was also asked if he had heard stories to the effect that men with bogus booze badges were going around delivering wet goods to places where such merchandise would be appreciated, and that for one reason or another the price of good whiskey in this city was going down.

Many Saloon Men Held Up.

"Yes," replied the federal director, "I have heard a lot about fake badges, forged transfer permits and saloon keepers who have been held up by bogus revenue agents. A lot of it is true. What's more, I myself have placed under arrest one of my own agents for having, in conjunction with two other men, who had nothing to do with the department, tried to hold up a saloon keeper in giving up $2,600 for having been caught with the goods when the poor fellow wouldn't have been fined more than $20 if he had submitted to arrest and pleaded guilty. That federal agent is now under $5,000 bail. There are a few others either under arrest or about to be arrested. They, however, are the exceptions. Most of the holding up of saloon keepers has been done by bogus federal agents."

"To counteract as far as possible this form of graft we are today suspending all of the legitimate federal agents on this line of work a new badge which when displayed in conjunction with the card signed by the proper officers will prove to anybody that the agent is genuine. No other badge must be accepted as genuine."

Why Whiskey Is Going Down.

Mr. Shevlin was asked why he thought that the price of whiskey was going down.

"There are two very good reasons why the price of whiskey is going down," replied the federal director. "In the first place, our men are not quite sufficient to stamp out the liquor traffic immediately; each day we do make arrests and each day more and more of contraband liquor goes into the federal warehouse. Each holder of illicit whiskey, brandy or gin knows that his turn may be next. Therefore, the more he can get rid of at big prices, even under the former rates, just that much less would be confiscated by our agents when he is caught with the goods."

Booze Hound Troubles.

"There is another sword of Damocles dangling over the head of the booze hound," continued Mr. Shevlin. "That is the United States Supreme Court, which on any Monday may render a decision that would knock the bottom from the booze market. That's the thing which is inducing most whiskey hounders to try to unload before it is too late. If, perchance, the Supreme court should knock out the eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead act, alcoholic prices would surely take a tumble."

Offenders Get Light Sentences.

"Does this uncertainty in the eventual constitutionality of the prohibition laws interfere in any way with your work of enforcement?" he was asked.

"We are going right on in this office just as though there was no doubt of the constitutionality of the Eighteenth Amendment and of the Volstead act, but we can't overcome entirely the psychological effect of the ruling on the subject. Even the federal judges are human and when men come before them for sentence either after having pleaded guilty or being found guilty by a jury, I think I can see in the sentences for first offenders a certain leniency which would of course not be meted out if the prohibition laws had already been pronounced entirely constitutional."

China Rejects Offer of Japanese on Shantung

(By Associated Press.)

Tokio, May 27.—China's reply rejecting Japan's offer to open negotiations relative to the future status of Shantung, has been received at the foreign office here. It says China is ready to supply guards for the railroad to displace Japanese and declares that country considers the railroad a distinct and separate question from that of the province.

News Notes From Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

If present plans materialize, Lillian Gish will be the next motion picture actress to star in a stage production. There are three good offers, including a vaudeville engagement, now under advisement by this young lady. She has wanted to return to the stage for some time, and since this is the psychological moment for her to have her wish fulfilled, it is not unlikely that she will take a vacation from films in the fall and go back to the spoken drama.

One of these offers permits David Griffith to direct her and since she has received all her film fame through his direction, this well, in all probability be the offer she will consider. On the other hand, "D. W." has promised himself to return to the stage for some time and he may make Miss Gish's stardom the occasion for keeping his promise to himself.

A SIX-FOOTER AND MORE.

The tallest woman on the screen is being used in the Fox Sunshine special, which Director Hampton Del Ruth is making. Her name is Blanche Payson. She is six feet three. No, she is not married.

BEBE DANIELS TO STAR?

Bebe Daniels is to be the next Famous Players-Lasky star. It rumor is correct. Miss Daniels is, under a long-term contract to the F. P. L., so it seems that the current report is more than likely true.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY.

Charles Ray had a birthday anniversary the other day which was celebrated with a dinner given in his honor at the Los Angeles Athletic club by about 20 of his close friends. By a coincidence the day marked the actual beginning of work on his first picture in his own studio, a screen version of George M. Cohan's comedy, "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway."

BADGER REGIMENT GIVEN WAR CROSS

(By Associated Press.)

Milwaukee, May 27.—Col. Carl Penner, Milwaukee, former commander of the 120th field artillery, 32nd division, has received notification from Washington that a Croix de Guerre and citation has been presented to the regiment through the war department. The regiment was composed of four batteries from Milwaukee, and one each from Kenosha, Eau Claire, Stevens Point, Sheboygan, Merrill, Lake Geneva, and Ladysmith. This regiment, officers claim, has the record for firing more shots at the enemy than any other American battery.

Bulgarian Peasant Too Sensible for Bolshevism

(By Associated Press.)

Sofia, May 27.—Bulgaria's 1919 crops were among the greatest in the country's history and those of this year promise even greater abundance. The country now is exporting wheat and maize to Belgium and Poland. Everywhere one goes in Bulgaria, he finds the peasant at the plow, in the factory, or at the trading center. He has too much "homely wisdom" and practical sense to bother with bolshevism or any form of communism. Owning his own farm, the Bulgarian peasant produces enough not only for himself and his family, but for the city dweller as well.

BADGER FARMERS RANK WITH BEST

Cooperative Spirit Puts Wisconsin in Lead in Nation.

Madison.—A short time ago the manager of an agricultural agency asked the editor of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment station what the experiment stations were doing for the farmer. He expressed the belief that many farmers were disposed to belittle the efforts of the scientist and there was not the general appreciation among farmers that there should be for the work of their agricultural institutions. Andrew W. Hopkins sent this reply:

180,000 Farmers in State

"There are in Wisconsin today something like 180,000 farms and these farmers lead the nation in production of milk for the manufacture of cheese and production of milk for condensing purposes; production of high yielding and pedigreed seed grains; production of peas for canning purposes; and production of hemp. Their farms rank very high in production of milk for the manufacture of butter; production of cabbage; production of forage crops; production of potatoes; and production of sugar beets.

Own Many Guernseys

"They own more Guernsey and Swiss cattle than the farmers of any state or the countries of origin of these breeds.

Their extension workers have helped them form more cow testing associations than have been organized in any other state, and they were the first to hold farmers' institutes.

"On their farms have been built more silos than in any other state, and today Wisconsin farmers are clearing more cut-over land than in any other commonwealth.

Tells of Hemp Industry

"As typical of the manner in which Wisconsin farmers have accepted scientific help offered by their experiment station and college of agriculture we cite the case of the state hemp industry. No hemp was grown in the state until the investigators proved a few years ago that the plant could be used successfully in grading certain weeds; that machinery could be made for harvesting and handling the fiber; and that the crop could be profitably grown. Today Wisconsin produces more hemp than any other state.

Close Co-operation

From this incomplete enumeration you will recognize that there has been close co-operation between the farmers, their scientific investigators and their other agricultural extension workers. If you received the special bulletin sent out Dec. 30 from the Washington headquarters—

Deep Sea Freight Held Up by Marine Strike

(By Associated Press.)

Philadelphia, May 27.—All deep sea freight, incoming and outgoing, is tied up at the port here as a result of the strike of longshoremen today. More than 3,000 members of the Marine transport workers voted to walk out last night following the refusal of employers to grant an increase of 20 cents an hour. The men are now paid 80 cents.

Australian Wheat Crop Partly Ruined by Drought

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, May 27.—The wheat crop of New South Wales has been so disastrously affected by drought that the yield probably will not be sufficient to meet domestic consumption in Australia, said a report today from the American consulate at Sydney. The crop was estimated at only 4,236,000 bushels, the smallest yield in 20 years.

TURKS STRONGLY OPPOSE TREATY

Nationalist Leader Declares Allies Led by British, Discredit Country.

[By Associated Press.]

Angora, Asia Minor, May 27.—Unalterable opposition to the treaty of peace the allies have submitted to Turkey was expressed here by Mustafa Kemal Pasha, leader of Turkish nationalist forces. He was asked by the correspondent for a statement relative to the treaty and replied he "welcomed an opportunity to speak on the situation."

Condemned to Death

"The allied powers, led by Great Britain, condemned Turkey to death," he declared, "and began to apply their decision by the direct material manifestation known to the world. The Turkish nation naturally has declined to accept such a sentence. Our caliph and sultan, the Turkish parliament and the Turkish government, the members of which were legal representatives of the Turkish nation, were unable to resist such a verdict and fell into the hands of the British."

Creates People's Rule

"The Turkish nation, without government, took the responsibility for its own life and created a people's government, calling it the great national and endowing it with legal executive powers."

"Men commanded by Anzevour Pasha, the former Circassian bandit, now supporting the sultan's government, enter villages and begin pillaging, calling themselves nationalists in order to discredit the real nationalist movement. They associate themselves with Armenians and Greeks in order to cause disturbances. They entered Bull and in conjunction with Armenians killed a small detachment of Turkish soldiers and officers with hatchets."

Turks Are Discredited

Assertions were made by Mustafa Kemal that the British were attempting to discredit the Turks and represent them as "mere savages and fanatics." He asserted that the new nationalist government here would use all its resources to combat this campaign.

The British are quick to realize this, he continued, and are using definite and different means to break down this organization internally. The British policy in Turkey is to create civil war and anarchy, he says.

ARMENIANS TO PLAN PEACE WITH SOVIET

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, May 27.—The Armenians have accepted an invitation from the Russian Bolsheviks to send delegates to Moscow, according to information received by the French foreign office.

A Tiflis dispatch to the foreign office says the Georgians have already reached an agreement with Moscow under which the Tiflis undertakes to prevent Georgian territory being used as a base for attacks against the Bolsheviks.

The reported willingness of the Armenians to negotiate with the Bolsheviks is explained in official circles here by the fact that they are exposed to attacks by the Turkish nationalists on the one side and by the Bolsheviks on the other, and probably have in view an arrangement assuring them tranquility on their northern boundary.

The Way To Wear Good Clothes
At An Outlay You Can Afford

YES, the dollar has shrunk and clothes cost more than in the old days. That, we must frankly face.

No use trying to evade it by paying a lower price than good clothes can be sold for. The last thing in the world most of us can afford is a "run-down-at-the-heel" appearance.

BUY good clothes and nothing else. Good clothes honestly made of all-wool fabrics. Then get out of them all the service that the maker has built into them.

Don't wear the same suit day after day. Have several suits and change them frequently.

All of them will wear much longer. See that your clothes are properly put away on hangers—even over night. Have them brushed often and pressed regularly.

IT IS amazing how Kirschbaum Clothes respond to such care. The all-wool fabrics keep their freshness and full color. The shape stays because it is put into the garment stitch by stitch. The smart well-groomed lines are there right up to the very last.

Every Tire Signed

We insist that Millers must be uniform. Each tire is signed. A record is kept of the maker, the inspector and the process.

If a tire comes back for adjustment we learn the reason. If the workman is at fault he is penalized. If the inspector overlooked a flaw he is held responsible. If any process or material is at fault, we correct it.

After years of this checking we've attained uniform tires. There are whole large cities from which not a Miller Tire came back last year.

Treads Must Endure

Miller Treads, by our standard, must outwear the balance of the tire. We have attained a tread which outwears rivals by 25 per cent.

Every day our tread stock is vulcanized, then tested, in our laboratory. We permit no variation.

Not a single Miller Tire with these new-grade treads has ever come back with the tread gone.

Not 20,000 Miles

Countless reports come to us on Miller Cord Tires showing 20,000 to 28,000 miles of service. And tales of that kind are told everywhere, we learn.

But mileage depends on conditions—on size, care, load and road. Millers are uniform, but they are not used under uniform conditions.

In our factory tests we average 15,000 miles on Cords.

But a Miller Tire will outlast—almost always—any tire that you place opposite, no matter what its costs. Compare them under like conditions, and see what mileage modern tires can give.

You will gain a new criterion. When you buy a new car insist on Miller Tires. Twenty car makers now supply them and there is no extra charge.

Some False Ideas About Them

Should an extra price buy an extra grade tire?

It should not. Any first-grade tire should be built as well as a tire of that type can be built.

Cord Tires cost more than Fabrics, and are worth the extra price. Men who figure cost per mile are coming to Cord Tires.

But any tire, Cord or Fabric, should be built for the utmost service which that type can give.

Some Men Over-Pay

Some men pay extra prices, expecting extra mileage. Some pay under prices for an under-grade, and hope to save in that way.

Both are wrong. There may be exceptions—there are always freak tires. But countless tests have proved that Miller

We Insist on This

There are three requirements which Miller Tires must meet.

First, they must average greater mileage, type for type, than any rival tire.

We constantly prove this. Eight machines in our factory run two tires each under rear-tire conditions. Each tire is run 650 miles daily by running extra-fast.

Won Over 21 Makes

The Eldorado Stage Co. of Los Angeles tested 21 other makes against Millers on 12-passenger Packard Buses, weighing 8,600 pounds loaded. In this supreme test Millers won by long odds, on long-distance uniformity.

Here we constantly compare the best other tires with Millers. Also in ceaseless road tests. Thus, day by day and week by week, we are guarding the Miller supremacy.

Fairies, Sammies
This Week-End

Beloit is all agog.

Saturday the Fairies play the McCoy-Nolans of Milwaukee. Sunday and Monday the Gateway City day takes on the Pyotts of Chicago.

And what they are all excited about is that the results of these 3 games will give the Fairies a chance to win some kind of an idea how strong the Samson Tractors are. All this because the Sammies took two games of three from the Pyotts.

It's going to be a heavy week-end for Fairbanks-Morse. The day game will be played at Beloit, Chicago, and the Memorial Day scrap will take place in the Lino City.

Now Janesville is all up in the air for the same reason. The real test will come June 19 and 20 when the two rival towns clash. The game of the 19th will take place at Beloit; that of the 20th here.

LEGISLATURE TO BE THROUGH IN WEEK

Opposition Has Faded and Medical School and Rent Bills Will Go Through.

[By Gazette Correspondent.]
Madison, Wis., May 27.—The first of the three big measures in the call for the special session went to the boards today when the rent-curb bill was reported in by the senate committee to the upper house this morning.

The committee reported the bill favorably recommending its passage without any change in the measure. As the bill stands it provides for the making of a house, either dwelling or apartment, a public utility, amendable to the public utility act. A special division is created as part of the railroad commission which will have the enforcement of the act.

Under its direction hearings will be conducted on complaints by tenants or landlords. These complaints will be investigated and awards handed down.

Hearings Were Held
The hearings on the measure was the most comprehensive held by the session so far. The senate parlors where the meeting was conducted were crowded. Senator David V. Jennings, chairman of the investigating committee, discussed the work of the committee and the necessity for remedial legislation. He was followed by Executive Council George L. Rudolph who very carefully section by section discussed the bill. He went over the entire legal history of regulatory utility legislation pointing out that this bill which will make an apartment house or a dwelling a public utility is absolutely constitutional and legal.

Mr. Rudolph, one of the drafters of the railroad and public utility acts of 1906 and 1907 under which the railroad commission operates, is the framer of the rent bill. He explained that it is the only piece of legislation of its kind in the entire nation being different from any other attempt to curb rent profiteering in the states.

Milwaukee At Hearing
The Milwaukee real estate board was on hand with an elaborately prepared series of objections. Speeches by contractors, landlords, lawyers and members of the board were made and read.

Their cry was that if the tenant was protected now during these years of "far and plenty" for the landlords the owners should be guaranteed returns during the off years.

The hearing was exhaustive and lasted from 2 o'clock until after 8 p. m. The committee then went into executive session and the action determined upon to recommend favorable action on the bill as asked for by Governor D. C. Phillips.

It is certain that the measure will not find any opposition in the upper house. Indications are that it will not be so badly received in the assembly.

Governor's Ultimatum.
As a matter of fact the entire tenor of the session is changing. The statement from the executive offices during the day that the legislators would be expected to give "honorable attention" to all proposals indicated that the governor was determined to force the hand of the houses and that if a fight as desired he was willing to engage.

Notwithstanding however this bravado, it is quite evident that the administration forces are anxious and while things look better there is no telling what may happen. Today is certain to be a day fraught with important developments possibly with the passage of a big bill and may determine whether the session breaks up in a political squall or completes its business and "quietly hies itself away until the summer months" some weeks distant.

Change in Rent Bill
One change may be offered to the rent bill. Senator Foss stated today that he had an amendment which would establish district boards which would consider cases in their districts and the central head in the railroad commission would pass upon. This he said would afford greater promptness in handling cases of complaint.

This amendment was not presented for consideration by the committee and it is uncertain whether it will be offered tomorrow. What is taken by the Phillips men to be a good omen is the fact that no evidence of any amendments or changes have been manifested.

At a joint convention of the two houses last night the hospital bill with the four year medical course was considered in a meeting of the whole. There were some six or seven speakers talking for the projects aimed at by the university.

medical faculty and prominent physicians.

For the Medical Bill.
Speakers were: President Birge, E. R. Fitzpatrick, secretary board of education, Dean E. E. Evans, W. R. Boyd, secretary of the Iowa State board of education.

The need of a hospital as proposed and its importance in being located with the university was emphasized by every speaker. When Lieut. Gov. Dittmar acting as chairman of the meeting called for remarks opposed to the legislation no one arose. Senator O. R. Olson later called to the chair and stated that while he was heartily in favor of the bill and would support it he was for a more equitable means for financing than the present bill, and would introduce such an amendment to it.

The hospital bill with the medical course will be introduced on the floor of the senate this afternoon by Senator Tullen. It is possible that the senate may take action on it at a night session.

Matters are moving more rapidly than early outlooks promised. Legislators are very anxious to get away and are handling the bills rapidly.

Dittmar Bomb
La Follette leaders are all on hand. The announcement yesterday that Lieut. Gov. Dittmar would be a candidate "whether the big boss said yes or no" was somewhat in the nature of a bomb. La Follette men are openly in favor of Attorney General J. J. Blaine, especially as a confidential report on the county convention of the nonpartisan league shows that Blaine was the almost unanimous choice for governor by that element.

It is stated that the socialists, La

Follette and Nonpartisans will hold a meeting Friday night at which they will get together and hash things over a bit. With that combination they are confident that they can clean house in the state capitol and feel that they want to get men down for offices who will "treat them right."

In the Senate Lobby

(By Special Correspondent.)
Madison, May 27.—It was 2:20 p. m. Thursday and still the senate waited. Whereupon someone remarked, "It's 2 o'clock with Lieut. Gov. Dittmar until the clock strikes three."

About two sessions ago at this time of the proceedings, remarked an old timer about an hour after the one would be resigning to go. Each member would have had about four cocktails and the reporters about six with several ordinary hookers.

And everybody sighed resignedly and licked their chops.

Every dark corner around the place holds an incipient political convention. When two of the lawmakers get together the rumor immediately starts with another political boom.

Senator Roy P. Wilcox certainly believes in pushing things. The way he rushed the session with that panama hat of his was wonderful to look upon.

Senator Oscar Olson had a swollen jaw. Friends thought the "Gentleman from Blanchardville" had taken to the tobacco chewing habit but the tall member emphatically grunted "No—bad tooth."

Senator Huber is the only member of the upper house who looks like the old type of law maker. Pompous hair, standing collar, string black tie and rolling voice and the days of Henry Clay or again with us.

Seems to the casual observer that about all the senate does is hear a prayer, pass a few ordinary remarks, and recess for six hours.

Senator Timothy Burks brought his majestic figure into the scene of action today. The senator was absent the first day. He has a new suit for his body and a new trill for his voice.

Senator John A. Conant is treating hardy members of the legislature to trips in the clouds with his brother aviator as the pilot. It is said that one member who is opposed to several pieces of legislation refused an invitation for the trip declaring that he heard he was going to be taken up and made to promise to vote "right" or he would be told to "walk back."

A new tie of brilliant green garbishes the front of Senator George L. Buck. It hardly seems possible on 10 cents a mile from Racine.

So far the only thing the upper house has voted upon has been adjournment and the way those senators say "aye" on that motion makes it appear as if they certainly enjoyed getting away.

1916--The Changing World--1920

You know him. He used to be a familiar caller at your back door. He was ragged; his pants were baggy and far too big; his hat was a derby, cracked and shabby. Over his shoulder he carried his little machine. He announced his presence to the neighborhood by a flaring blast upon his trumpet. Under his arm he carried the symbols of his trade. His call was "Brellers tuh men!"

But he is no more. He and his kind have gone. Along came the wave of prosperity and—No, the rain coat has not replaced the "bummer-shoot," nor do they make umbrellas that never leak or break.

ANNUAL GRAIN SHOW WILL HOLD AT LA CROSSE

Madison.—The annual grain show held by the members of the Wisconsin Experiment association will be held in La Crosse instead of Madison this year, announces R. A. Moore of the University of Wisconsin, who is secretary of the association.

This is the first time since the experiment association was started in 1891 that the show has not been held on the university campus. Since the show has grown until it is the greatest grain show in this country, it has been decided to hold it in different parts of the state each year. Every few years the show will come back to its home—the agronomy building.

was sparkling, on dew-covered, virgin foliage, walking gayly along the street and whistling a merry tune was a spry young chap dressed in comfortable, cool and light spring duds with snappy hat to match. He wore a pair of high priced shoes and a flowing tie of silk. Beneath his arm he carried—

Umbrellas, several of them. Business is fine, he told the inquiring reporter. "Got lots of it. The old way was too slow. Nowadays, we go from door to door as before, but we do our work like a salesman and mend the then bring them back in better shape than the old coddler with his antiquated method."

La Crosse.—On the ground of a tributary negligence on the part of Stone, Judge Wilbur H. Booth in United States court dismissed the damage suit for $20,550 against the city of Winona, brought by Burley Stoner of Galvestone. Stoner asked this sum because of injuries alleged to have been received when his auto on October 2 last plunged over an embankment on the Wisconsin approach to the Winona high bridge. Edward Pooler was killed and Stoner injured.

Recent figures concerning the available water power from streams in the hills known as the Japanese Alps, of which Mount Fuji is the most famous, place it at $350,000,000, or one-fifth the total available water power in Japan. Use has thus far been made of $4,000 h. p. in the region referred to.
